Life is Great in 2008…I found a Dime in 2009….or, The Sun will Shine in 09…or how about...

WE WERE FINE IN 2009!!

Gwen Cooper, President & CEO

And fine we were! We all anticipated a tough year; the economy took a nose dive, unemployment numbers skyrocketed, and many of our loved ones were overseas defending our country. But, the sun did shine, Floridian's continued to amaze and impress us with their generosity and Community Health Charities had a great year!

Highlights of our year include welcoming three new members to our CHC Florida family, Camp Boggy Creek, Florida Breast Cancer Foundation and Susan G. Komen for the Cure. We launched our highly acclaimed Health Matters at Work Podcast Series and our interactive health portal www.healthmattersatwork.org. Our monthly subscription based e-newsletter grew to just under 1000 and we participated in more campaign activities than in any other campaign season in CHC's history. All told, our small staff of 3 full time and 3 part-time campaign contractors participated in over 250 campaign events during the year. This number doesn't include the more than 100 agency visits, campaign planning meetings, lunch & learn programs and advocacy efforts lead by our staff, board and agency volunteers. On the National level, our staff served as one of the lead affiliates in the National Corporate Restructuring Task Force and we continue to lead by example by participating on the newly formed Implementation Team.

Anticipating 2010 to be equally challenging, we've worked proactively to cut expenses wherever possible, including moving our offices "uptown" to Tallahassee, just a short drive from the Capitol. Our move is sure to increase opportunities for CHC to tap into our area's colleges and universities and become highly visible as an integral community partner in health education and services.

As the saying goes…We'll Thrive Again in "Twenty-Ten"!

Financial Accountability and Transparency

Community Health Charities of Florida conducts an annual audit by an Independent Auditioning Firm. Audit examinations are conducted in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. A complete audit and required financial statements are posted on our website and available for viewing during regularly published business hours.

Expense Recovery

Community Health Charities of Florida (CHCFL) is a membership association of health charities. CHCFL performs a number of services for and on behalf of our member health agencies including but not limited to preparations of applications, representation in national and local private and public sector campaigns, marketing, promotion and advertising, processing and distribution of contributions, advocacy, public health education and health information and referrals. The annual operating budget of CHCFL is approved by the Board of Directors, who are elected by their peers and whose majority is made up of member health agency representatives. CHCFL represents member health charities in workplace giving campaigns, and recovers operating expenses, from distributions to member agencies based on a pro rata share and/or an equal share of designated and undesignated contributions from all campaigns. Typically, such administrative fees may range from 0% to 25% depending on the requirements of a campaign. Local Community Health Charities of Florida member agencies do not contribute an annual application fee.

Health Matters at Work™ was developed by Community Health Charities to help companies elevate their commitment to health and wellness by making it easier for employees to connect causes that are them and even if from multiple to the health and resources important to their families, employees work home or in office locations.

Health Matters at work
A Program of Community Health Charities

Community Health Charities kicked off our 50 week video podcast series in May, featuring more than 20 of the nation's most respected health charities who have come together to talk about the major health issues facing more than 125 million American affected by a disability or chronic disease. Our Podcast Series has broken the top 10 more than four times in the Health Category!
